Data flow diagram

DATAFLOW

[Name of the Data Flow]

Data flow diagrams visualize relationships between external entities, processes, data stores, and data flows. These visual representations of a system can help be used to explain complex processes to key stakeholders or to build out new structures with your team.

